

Name of website: Bowling4U

Description of website: Bowling4U will be a website specifically designed for people to look up information about bowling. It'll allow users to open the website, look at a list of bowling alleys (most likely in the Columbia area) as well as buy bowling balls/other equipment. For people who love bowling and people who want to get into it more than casually going, this website will help a ton. When the user wants to look at some of the different bowling alleys (in columbia) then it will display information about said bowling alley as well as show the ratings. They can also see if there are leagues near them that they can participate in.

Page names:

- Home
- Balls
- Other equipment
- Alleys
- Leagues

Description of data: A lot of the data the will be stored will be a list of all the bowling balls and equipment and categorize them based on who produces them. The location of alleys around Columbia will also be stored along with the leagues at each. As for manipulating data, when people go through the shop and they can put items into their cart, which saves the data.